

The input:

Last week my friend Mark visited a fortune teller because he wanted to know something about his future.

Mark: Good morning.

The fortune teller: Good morning. How can I help you?

Mark: I want to know my future.

The fortune teller: Sit down, please. Put your hands next to my magic ball.

Ok, what do you want to know?

Mark: Can you tell me anything about my education?

The fortune teller: Ok, let me see. You will finish school this year; but you won't get very good marks.

Mark: Oh, no. My parents will be mad at me.

The fortune teller: Don't worry. You will go to the university. You will graduate and you will find a good job.

Mark: At least I won't take money from my parents. How about my relationships?

The fortune teller: Of course you will have a girl friend. You will marry her and you will have four children; two boys and two girls.

Mark : Are you kidding ? You can't be serious? I won't earn enough money.

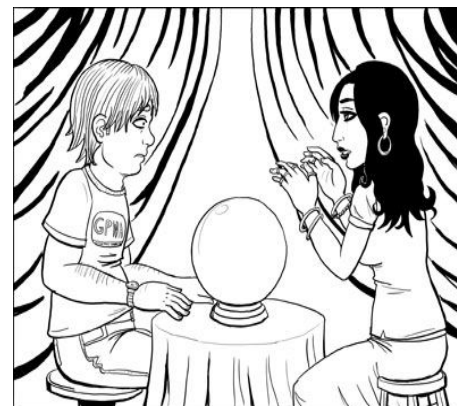

The fortune teller : But that's what I see in my magic ball. You will also have a big house and your wife will work.

Mark: How will she look like? Will she be beautiful?

The fortune teller : I can't tell you that ,sorry.

Mark: Thank you very much. Good bye.

The fortune teller: Goodbye! Next please.
