

Mrs. FB Kh

www.elbassair.com

The Near Future

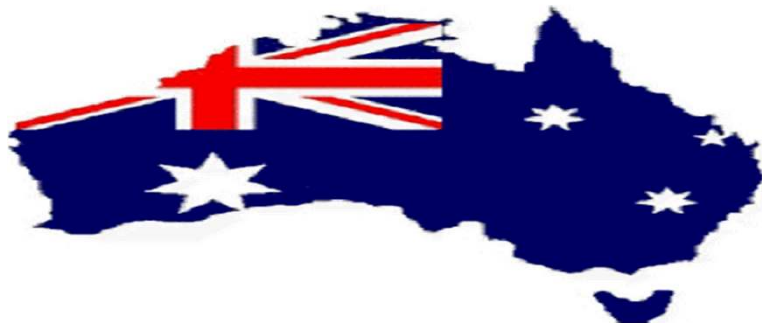

Destination

Simple Future has two different forms in English: "will" and "be going to." Although the two forms can sometimes be used interchangeably, they often express two very different meanings. These different meanings might seem too abstract at first, but with time and practice, the differences will become clear. Both "will" and "be going to" refer to a specific time in the future.

One of the most common ways to talk about the future is with will, for example: I will call you tonight. We often call this the "future simple tense", but technically there are no future tenses in English. In this construction, the word will is a modal auxiliary verb.

Next month,
I will travel
to Australia.

The Future with “be going to” is often used to express a future action that is starting or clearly on the way.

Janet is pregnant. She is going to have a baby soon.

Tonight I am going to visit my grandparents.

Past

Present

Future

From NOW to NEXT MONTH
there's a long period of time.

So use: the Future WILL

From NOW to TONIGHT
there's a short period of time.

So use: the Near Future
GOING TO

MAR We use this tense
when we have the plans or intention to do something but nothing has been arranged yet.

Going to

```
graph TD; A[Going to] --> B["Be going to"]; A --> C["Be going to"];
```

"Be going to" expresses that something is a plan. It expresses the idea that a person intends to do something in the future. It does not matter whether the plan is realistic or not.

"Be going to" can express the idea of a general prediction about the future. Predictions are guesses about what might happen in the future

BE GOING TO PLAN

I am going
to travel
to London

It means that we want to travel and we have the
intention of doing
it, but we don't have the tickets,
the hotel or anything arranged

BE GOING TO PLAN

When I grow up, I am going to travel to space.

BE GOING TO PREDICTION

You are going to become a famous artist
some day.

For predictions
based on any real
basis; when there
is a justification
for our predictions.

BE GOING TO PREDICTION

Mona is very smart at Chemestry. She is going to be a scientist.

The Affirmative Form

am, is, are
going to
verb (infinitive)

We are going to have class.

I am going
to iron the clothes.

phillipmarth.info

信望愛 | 信望愛 | 信望愛

I am going to translate this letter to Mrs.
Jones because
she can't read Chinese.

We are going
to celebrate Women's Day
on March the 8th.

Look at the loory. It is going to crash
into the car.

Students' turn to speak

This student always sleeps in the classroom. This time,
the teacher

.....

..... .

Those clouds are black. It

.....

.....

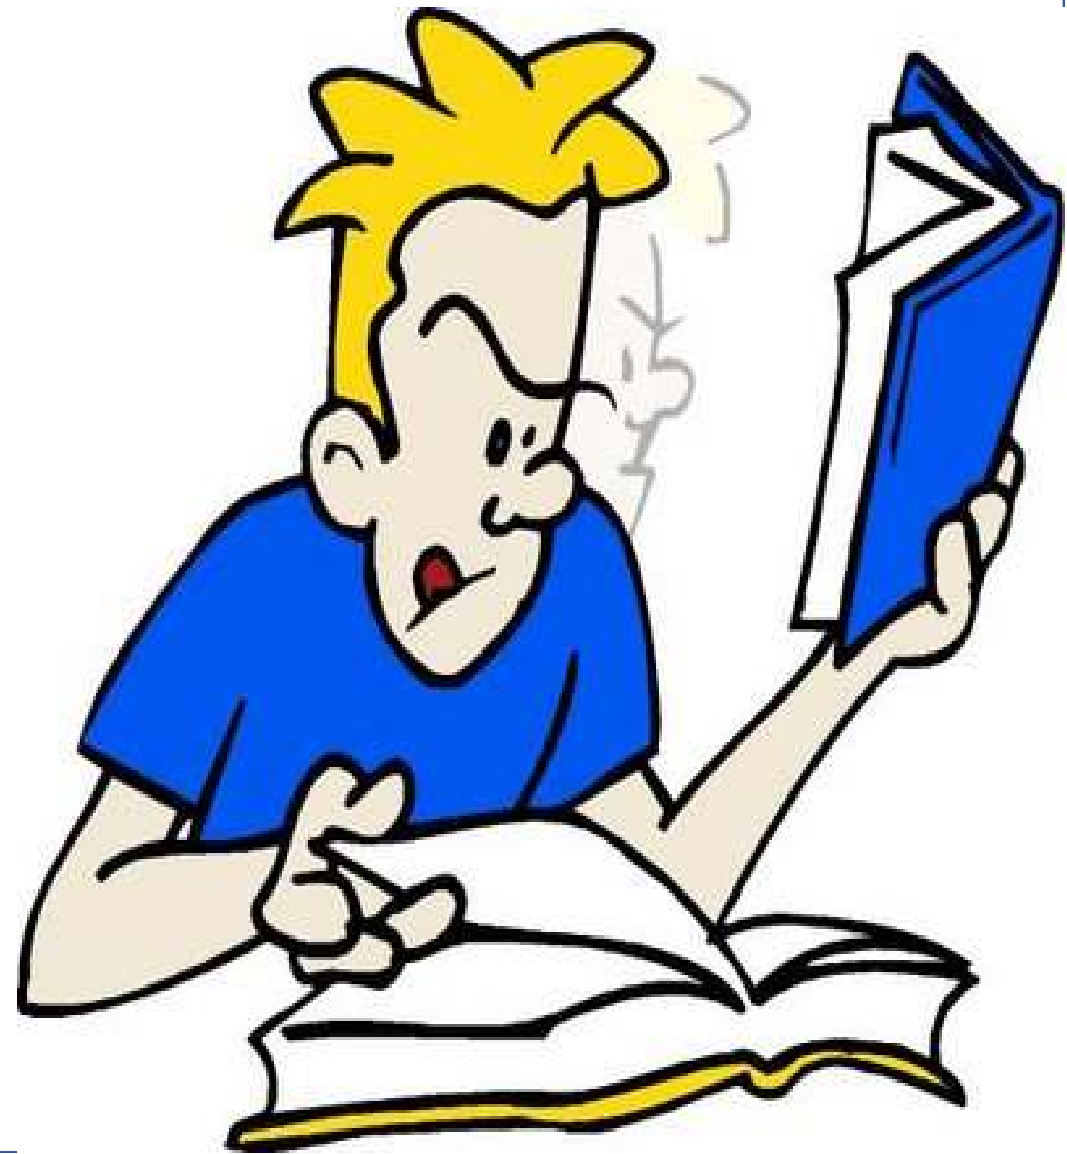

.....

Tom didn't do
well last term.
Next term, he

.....

.....

.....

Today is Teacher's Day .

You

.....

.....

This activity seems difficult for you Henry. Don't worry, I

.....

.....

You should be more careful
John. The dog

.....

.....

Hi

Hello. My name is Molly. Today is my birthday. I am going to be thirteen years old.

My brother Kevin / make / a surprise
organize / a party / for me

I / buy / a new evening
dress

Kevin / buy / the cakes /
the drinks

Mom / prepare / big meal

I / invite /all my friends

They / bring / gifts /
presents

We / dance / sing / have / great party time

Today I'm going to fly to Manchester to visit my family. I'm going to be there for two weeks. Oh! Hello friends, I'm the Going to Boy, because I always have a lot of new plans and intentions, for example: my friend Mister Will and I are going to open a fantastic Language School next March in Mijas - (Malaga-Spain). We are going to have a lot of students and I'm going to get married with my girlfriend Carmela soon, she is a beautiful Spanish girl. She isn't going to come with me to Manchester this time, but she's going to come next summer to meet my mum and dad. And that's all for now because it's 2:30 and I'm going to miss the bus to the airport.

The Negative Form

I am not
going to sell my car.

The wilsons are not going to spend the summer holiday in
the beach.

They are going to camp in the forest.

We are not going to move to a new house. We are going to stay in
our old house.

I am not going to the cinema
tonight. I have a lot of work
to do.

Look at the rainbow. It is not going to rain anymore.

The following people do not intend to do the following actions

Write negative sentences using « going to »

not study / Maths

I'm too tired this semester.

.....

.....

.....

not attend / the concert

Lily is not excited about Rock'n' Roll. She

.....

.....

tonight.

Sell / all the pots

There are many pots. Lora doesn't think she

.....

...them all.

Leave prison/ for 20
years

Tod comitted a murder. He

.....

.....

Not stop / studying

Kevin loves Maths a lot. He

.....

..... until he finishes this problem.

The Interrogative Form

Yes / No Questions

	I
	you
Am	he
Are	she	going to	verb
Is	it		(infinitive)
	we they

James and Lora got married an hour ago.

Are they going to spend their honeymoon in Hawaii?

Yes, they are.

Don sometimes walks while he sleeps.

Is he going to fall down?

No, he is not.

Julia reads all kinds of books.

Is she going to become a writer?

Certainly, yes.

-Look! the house
is burning.

-Oh my God. Are you going to call
the firestation.

-Ofcourse I am.

-Is Lizie going to marry Andy?

-Yes, she is.

-Great! I think she is going to marry
the right man.

-Are you going to take shirmp shoup
or chicken soup?
-I think I am going
to eat grilled shrimps with vegetables salad.

Information Questions

W – H
Questions

Who is going to be the Liga champion this year?

It is difficult to know. Both F C Barcelona and Real Madrid are going to explode the Classico.

Which car is going to win the race
in your opinion?

I think it is going to be
the yellow car.

Who are you going to invite for your graduation ceremony?

I'm going to invite all my family.

What are you going to do tomorrow, Fana?

First I'm going to play some games on my laptop. Then, I'm going to meet my friend Sindy. Next, we are going to go for a ride on my dad's new car. Finally, we are going to have a soft drink in a café.

What sport is your little son going to practise?

He is a fan of winter sports?
He is going to practise Hockey on ice.

What are the soldiers going to do?

They are going to fight
the enemy.

What is she going to do with these ingredients?

She is going to make a cake.

What are you going to cook, mom?

You see honey.
I'm going to
cook vegetables
soup.

What are they going to make?

They are going to make barbecue.

What are Muslims going to celebrate?

They are
going to celebrate Eid
El Fitr.

You know cigarettes are dangerous.
When are you going to quit smoking?

I know that.
I'm going to stop it soon.

When are we going to meet?

I 'm going to meet you
this evening

When are they going to attend the concert?

They are going to attend it tomorrow afternoon.

Where is the President Bouteflika going to give his speech?

President Bouteflika is going
to give his speech
at the 5th July stadium.

Where are you going to spend your spring vacation?

I am going to spend my holiday in the countryside.

Time For Practise

Lora is a young girl. She likes music very much and she is fan of rock and roll.

What do you think her dream is?

Look at the pictures and use the notes to write about Lora's dreams.

Use the « be going » to as much as possible

© www.ClipProject.info

leave school

www.thelibrarysite.info

study music

take lessons / electric guitar

dreamstime.com

take part / concerts
tour the world

Make / own band
Name/ Girls Rock

Learn / play music /
sing

My Dream
Hello friends. My name.....

